With injustice and voter disenfranchisement rampant in our country, it is easy to become jaded. Rejoice the Vote believes that in spite of continued efforts at voter suppression, casting your ballot remains a powerful tool, a tool that we must embrace and celebrate if we want our country to one day fulfill its promise of justice and freedom for all.

Rep. Lewis (1940-2020) believed in the power of individuals and movements to change the course of history and earned the title of the “conscience of Congress.” In his honor, Rejoice the Vote are excited to announce an art contest, open to all ages, whose goal is to increase voter turnout, especially among young people.

In addition to cash prizes, winning designs will be printed on posters, shared on social media and made into t-shirts, and all submissions that meet our criteria will be included in an online gallery. For more information about this contest please go to:
